Political, and even if I attended, I could scarcely be expected to understand what they meant. Now that I heard this lecture of Sj. Pal's, I seemed to get impressed with something that was not in me before and began to lake an interest in the matter, so that I went to attend other lectures as well.

The next incident that! should like to make mention of here, is one of Rabi Baboo's Lectures. It was a paper read by Sj. Rabindra Nath Tagore, on Swadeshi Samaj, at the Minerva Theatre Hall, Unfortunately for me, I could not get a chance of attending the meeting, as there arose a scuffle between myself and some of the men guarding the entry gates. The Police intervened, and began to use their fists freely at those, that were standing near the gate, eager to enter, provided they got their chance. Enraged at the treatment they received at the hands of the Police, people began to throw brick-bats at them. The mounted police came running their horses in the very thick of the crowds, using their horse-whips right and left, and people began to disperse helter skelter in every direction. For about ten to fifteen minutes it was confusion and disorder all
